

Can I use Farmbrite for aquaponics?

Last Modified on 11/21/2019 9:04 am MST

Farmbrite can be used for many types of livestock tracking including aquaponics.

Go to Livestock tab

Click on the arrow on "Add a new animal" to Add a group.

Enter the information needed

Save

Go back into your new record

Add more details by going into the notes, treatments, task items, expenses, if you've moved them into another tank "field", images or files.

The software can be utilized this way for agricultural operations that feature insects and fish.
