What information can I enter in Grow Location details in Farmbrite?

When creating or editing the details for a Grow Location you can provide the following information.

- Field or bed name
- Location type
  - Field - An outdoor location where you'll grow crops or graze livestock.
  - Greenhouse - A building where you might start your seedlings, or grow plants to maturity in a more humid or temperate environment.
  - Grow Room - An indoor location where you might start seedlings. Like the greenhouse, maybe you'll start plants here and transplant them into a field later, or finish them here for an extra harvest during winter months.
  - Pasture - Generally a field where you might plant a cover crop, used for grazing animals.
  - Paddock - A type of animal enclosure. This can be used a a location when moving livestock.
  - Other - What else do you have on your property that you'd like to create? The possibilities are endless.
- Planting Format (Planted in beds, Cover crop, Row crop or other)
- The Area of the field and it's unit of measure ("Square Feet", "Linear Feet", "Acres", "Hectars", "Square Meters")
  - Note that this area can be less than 1- just supply a value with a decimal point, like .5 acres for example.
- The Status of the field ("Active", "Fallow", "Leased", "Other")
- Light profile (Full sun, Full to Part sun, Partial sun, Sun to partial shade, Partial shade, Full shade)
- A Description of the field

You can also access the following features for that grow location using the secondary tabs:

- Plantings
- Grazing
- Treatments
- Nutrients
- Calendar
- Tasks
- Notes
- Map
- Accounting
- Images
- Files