How do I change my contact email?

Change your contact email in my Farmbrite account

It is simple to change your contact email. Go to your account tab at the top right hand corner of your account. Select the settings or account information tab. Scroll down past the map. You will find several emails here. Select the 'Primary Email Address' and enter your new email here.

You can also contact customer support for more information or to assist you.