

Tracking Time Spent On Tasks

Last Modified on 04/22/2026 3:32 pm MDT

It's an age old story for any business - you have more work to do than you have time for, and you have to prioritize and budget that time to make the most of it. We know you're using Farmbrite's Tasks and Schedule features to help with this - creating tasks, assigning them to your farm workers, and filling your schedule with important appointments and events. But did you know that you can record the hours and minutes spent on each task to help you better keep track of that time spent? You can also report on that task time, helping you budget your time better and find ways to more efficiently use it.

Every task has the ability to track the time spent. You'll likely update this after the task is complete, or maybe as your work progresses on a task with a checklist. To track the time spent, open your task to update it, and then find the field for Hours Spent. You can supply the number of hours here, including decimal points to track partial hours (2.5 hours, 1.25 hours, etc.)

The screenshot shows the Farmbrite web application interface. At the top left is the Farmbrite logo. A search bar is located at the top center. On the top right, there are links for 'Account', 'Chris', and 'Help'. A left-hand navigation menu includes 'Schedule', 'Tasks', 'Livestock', 'Crops', 'Resources', 'Accounting', 'Market', 'Contacts', 'Farm Map', and 'Reports'. The 'Tasks' section is active, showing a 'List' view. A 'New Task' button is visible. Below the navigation is a table of tasks with the following data:

Task	Associated To	Due	Priority	Status	Assignee
Farm Truck Maintenance <small>Let's get the old farm truck tuned up</small>	1987 Chevrolet K2500 Silverado Chevrolet Pick Up Truck <small>Equipment</small>	Dec. 20, 2021	Medium	To Do	Chris
Feed Pepper Plants	Peppers (Hot), Inferno <small>Crop</small>	Dec. 21, 2021	Low	To Do	Reed
Administer Medication	Bison 03 <small>Animal</small>	Dec. 22, 2021		To Do	Greg
Move to Field B <small>Use the south gate for access</small> <small>Location Tagged</small>	Bison 01 <small>Animal</small>	Dec. 23, 2021	Medium	To Do	Chris
Second round of vaccine	Bison 03 <small>Animal</small>	Dec. 25, 2021		To Do	Adriana

Once the hours spent have been recorded, you'll be able to report on them to get a better look at the time your different tasks take, and how your time is being used. You can run the Task Completed Report to get this information. You'll find that report by navigating to Reports in your left menu, and then looking under the Schedule and Tasks section on the right. The hours spent on each task are shown to the right of the report. Note that you can also add the Hours Spent to your custom reports as well.

Be aware that you change the date range at the top of the report to find tasks that were completed within a specific time period. Also, if you want to get even more detailed with this, know that you can export this report to a spreadsheet to sort it, run formulas, and really dig into your data.

Name	Assignee	Associated To	Due Date	Completed By	Completed On	Priority	Hours Spent

Move Bison 03 to Field B	Stephanie	Bison 03 Animal	Dec. 21, 2021 12:00 am	Chris			1.50

This might help you make comparisons for repeating tasks - maybe you find that a certain farm worker is particularly skilled at a task and completes it faster than others, and therefore should always be assigned that task. Looks like Chris' quick work around the horse stalls just earned him a stable job for life! Get it, a stable job? You get it.

Let us know if you have any questions about tracking your hours spent on tasks; we're glad to help you!
