You'll certainly record measurements to track your livestock growth, but we all know the old adage "a picture is worth a thousand words", right? Sometimes you just want to see a photo of the animal, and even compare it to previous ones to marvel at their growth. All those feedings, treatments, and TLC is paying off! You can add photos to each animal in Farmbrite, and even use them as thumbnail images to make identifying your livestock records easier.

Photos are added on individual animal records, so you'll always navigate to Livestock, and then choose the animal you'd like to add a photo for. We'll pick our young Bull (Vinny) to add a new picture. To do this, we click on the animal, select Photos from the left, and then upload a new image.

The screenshot displays the Farmbrite interface for an animal record. On the left is a sidebar with navigation menus: Schedule, Tasks, Livestock (expanded to show Animals, Livestock Groups, Grazing, Livestock Inventory, Plantings, Resources, Accounting, Market, Contacts, Farm Map, Reports), and Details (Notes, Schedule, Tasks, Treatments, Feedings, Inputs, Measurements, Offspring, Genealogy, Yield, Grazing, Accounting, Photos, Files). The main content area is titled 'Livestock / Bull 01 [Vinny]'. It features a profile picture of a bull, the name 'Bull 01 [Vinny]', and an 'Active' status. Below this is a 'Basic Information' section with fields for Name or Label (Bull 01 [Vinny]), Animal Type (Cattle), Tag Number (-), Status (Active), and Location/Paddock (Northwest Field B). A 'Recent Activity' table shows four entries: May 22, 2023 - Moved into location "northwest field b", May 22, 2023 - Moved to northwest field b, May 17, 2023 - Moved into location "northwest field b", and May 17, 2023 - Moved from northwest field b. A 'Physical Characteristics' section includes Sex (Male), Weight (lbs) (Add Weight), Height (in) (Add Height), Framescore (-), and Condition Score (BCS) (Add BCS). A 'Birth Information' section has an 'Offspring' link and a 'View offspring' link. At the top right of the main content area, there are buttons for 'Record Activity', 'Edit', and a three-dot menu.

The most recently uploaded image is always used as the thumbnail. So as Vinny gets a bit older, and that first picture isn't exactly representative of his current look, we can just upload a new image and it's replaced automatically.

You can upload the following file types - .jpg, .jpeg, .png, .mov, .mp4, .m4v, and .avi.
